"A Female Stranger."

In St. Paul's churchyard, in Alexandria, Va., is a marble tombstone bearing this inscription:

To the memory of a female stranger: How loved, how honored once avails thee not; To whom related or by whom begot: A heap of dust alone remains of thee. 'Tis all thou art, and all the proud shall be.

This strange inscription raised much conjecture. The facts, as nearly as known, are that in May, 1816, a man and a beautiful girl, accompanied by a valet, arrived at Alexandria in an English vessel. They shunned every one. Five months afterward the girl died. The husband staid long enough to erect a monument, left a sum of money to repair it and then sailed away and was never heard of again. Several novels have been founded upon this sad and romantic incident.

An Uncomfortable Superstition.

A very uncomfortable superstition prevails in the Minnieh province in Egypt. Whenever a pigeon house is to be made, the fellahin consider that the pottery used in its construction should be baked by the help of a human body. A pigeon house was to be erected recently at the village of Beni Somrook, in this province, and this necessary preliminary of its construction was not forgotten. A young child was first caught and in spite of its struggles was put in an oven and burned alive while the pottery was baked with the aid of this human holocaust. Two men, one of them a potter by trade, have been arrested on suspicion of having taken part in this old custom.—Cairo Egyptian Gazette.

License Resolution.

THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS of Washoe county, Nevada, under and by virtue of the authority in them vested by an act of the Legislature of the State of Nevada, entitled "An act authorizing the licensing of itinerant and unlicensed merchants and traders," approved March 14, 1899, do resolve as follows:

Resolved, That from and after the 12th day of May, A. D. 1899, and until the further resolution of this board a monthly license of seventy-five dollars be required and collected of each itinerant or unlicensed merchant or trader in the county of Washoe, State of Nevada.

Resolved, That this resolution be published in the "Nevada State Journal," a newspaper published in Reno, Nevada, for one week prior to said May 12, 1899.

By order of the Board, H. H. BECK, Chairman.

Attest: F. B. PORTER, Clerk.

What is a Day?

Nine persons out of 10—yes, 999 out of every 1,000—if asked how long it takes the earth to turn once on its axis would answer 24 hours, and to the question, How many times does it turn on its axis in the course of the year? the answer would be 365 1/4 times. Both answers are wrong.

It requires but 23 hours and 56 minutes for the earth to make one complete turn, and it makes 366 1/4 turns during the year. The error springs from a wrong idea of what is meant by a day.

The day is not, as is commonly supposed, the time required by the earth to make one turn on its axis, but the interval between two successive passages of the sun across the meridian—that is to say, the time which elapses after the sun is seen exactly south in its diurnal course through the heavens before it is again seen in that position.

Now, in consequence of the earth's revolution in its orbit, or path round the sun, the sun has the appearance of moving very slowly in the heavens in a direction from east to west. At noon tomorrow the sun will be a short distance to the east of the point in the heavens at which it is seen at noon today, so that when the earth has made one complete turn it will still have to turn four minutes longer before the sun can again be seen exactly south.

Chinatown's Lottery.

Chinamen are natural gamblers, and in every city in this country where they congregate they have a lottery. The manner of conducting the lottery is characteristic. Square yellow papers are circulated about Chinatown. They contain 80 characters within a green border. There is no name or location on the sheet, but every one knows its office and uses. Translated literally, these characters represent some natural phenomena, such as "Heaven and earth," "Fish swim," "Birds fly," "The world is vast," "Clouds rise" and other commonplace of daily life, and so general are they that the most ordinary dream may find here a character for interpretation.

Twenty characters are chosen and crossed and the wager laid. When the drawing comes, the man who guesses three of these numbers gets his money back; five, he wins double his stake, and ten, 200 times the amount paid in. The stakes run from 10 cents to $5. The highest and lowliest inhabitant of the quarter delights in the bah-kapoon and plays it with almost religious persistency.

Prayer book marks of purple or white moire ribbon have mountings of silver or gold. A silver or gold heart holds the ends of three pieces of ribbon. On the end of one is an anchor, on the second a cross and on the third a crown.

Flowers, both natural and artificial, are much employed for the trimming of evening costumes, being used in bunches, garlands and sprays about all portions of the gown.

The first duel known to have taken place upon American soil occurred in 1680, when Edward Doty and Edward Lester, servants of a New England colonist named Hopkins, fought over some trifling matter with swords. Neither was seriously injured, but both were severely punished by the provincial authorities.

A REACTION AGAINST TRUSTS.

The JOURNAL sometime ago published a portion of the remarks of Senator Perkins of California at the last banquet of the Manufacturers and Producers Association in San Francisco, when he admonished the Republican party that disaster and overthrow would result if the administration's policy concerning tariff and trusts was maintained or continued. The Alturas Plaindealer takes up the subject and quotes other prominent authorities to show that the California Senator's opinion is shared by a large portion of the most influential Republican press of the country. The Plaindealer says: The capitalizations of the trusts organized last month is reported to have reached the billion dollar point, which was considered remarkable as the record for two months preceding and a few months ago was considered remarkable as the record for the entire year of 1898. This month, however, there have been signs that the perils of this ballooning of stocks are at last being recognized. At the close of the week the puncturing of one of these inflated concerns was followed by a violent reaction in the price of industrials, and the decrease of money has impeded the further progress of the movement. Of even more serious significance have been the protests of protectionists newspapers against the toleration of the combinations to advance prices and restrict production. For example, the Philadelphia Ledger published in the citadel of protectionism, declares itself as follows:

"Congress has a weapon within reach to give the death-stroke to nearly all the rapacious trusts now existing. Most of these combinations deal in American products of which they have obtained a monopoly. The duty of the foreign product is so high as to be prohibitory or nearly so. It is a gross perversion of the taxing power to impose a tariff which, without yielding revenue to the government, enables trusts to plunder American citizens. In every instance where a domestic monopoly puts exactions upon the consumer Congress should repeal the duty, and thus free the public from oppression."

In similar vein speaks the Chicago Times-Herald, one of the two Chicago papers owned by Mr. Kohlman, who has been so conspicuous for his ardent support of President McKinley. In an editorial criticizing the St. Paul Pioneer Press, probably the ablest Republican paper in Minnesota, for its violence of its attacks upon the "monstrous oligarchy of monopoly," the Times-Herald specifically accepts the Democratic and Populist remedy which its contemporary is urging with so much favor. Its words are as follows:

"It is undoubtedly the duty of legislatures and courts to protect society from the aggregations of capital which destroy competition in order to enhance prices. For these there can be no excuse, protection or defense. So when the Pioneer Press declares that it is the duty of the Republican party to repeal every protective duty under the shelter of which its beneficiaries have organized a trust or combination of any sort, to advance prices, it meets the views of the Times Herald to a dot. The purpose of the protective tariff was to foster industries, not to protect monopolies."

Such declarations as these in Republican papers of great influence, supported as they are by all the elements in the opposition party, are giving new life to the cause of tariff reform.

With the Republican party it is a case of be it or be it not, and be it or be it not. If it abandons the trusts, as many of its most influential newspapers and members are doing, the party will have no Hanna sack to carry it through in 1900, as it did in 1896. The party without a sack is like a locomotive without fuel or steam—it cannot turn a wheel. If it stands by the trusts and retains the sack, it will lose a million or more of its passengers who will refuse to travel on the Republican road. It is evidently the devil or the deep sea, and the choice whether to burn or drown.

PROVIDENCE can pass bills through Congress, but it takes the Republican party to make the snow fall, the crops to grow, the mines to yield, and the harvests abroad to fail. In the language of Mark Hanna, after he had purchased his election in Ohio: "God reigns, and the Republican party still lives."

If Aguinaldo loses his present job, with his late experience he ought to win distinction in an effort to beat the record in a trip around the world.

The Truckee river, as a mining proposition, contains no gold, but it could nevertheless be made a golden stream. It contains properties which if properly utilized would increase twenty fold Washoe's acreage of golden grain.

WHEN General Otis denied Aguinaldo's request for a three-months' truce, the former probably thought the latter ought to be able to grasp the situation in about three minutes.

NEVADA comes pretty nearly up to our forefathers' ideal of a model government. It is a government of the people, by the people and for the politicians.

RESERVITIES.

A special train of eight or ten cars on the N.-C.-O. left yesterday for the extension front, loaded with rails.

Only a Bridge.

The several newspapers of the State are doing good work in booming their several sections in particular, and Nevada in general, and in describing the resources of the country. By keeping it up for two years they may become so proud of their State as not to sell it out at the next election; they will certainly raise their price on the goods. Stewart has described Nevada as a "railroad bridge" and as a desert, and that it would be an outrage to make the Central Pacific give Nevada a terminal, because there is no business here. If this State is nothing but a bridge for the Central Pacific, of course it is right that our representatives should represent the Central Pacific, because that is all there is in the State to represent. I hadn't looked at it that way before.—Quelquefois, in Genoa Courier.

Delegates Appointed.

The Governor has appointed the following gentlemen as commissioners to the Trans-Mississippi Congress: B. F. Leete, J. A. Elliot, Henry Kinde, P. E. Cannon, E. Strother, W. J. Westerfield, W. E. Sharon, J. W. Adams and Francis G. Newlands.

"CINDERELLA."

A Large Audience Greeted the First Production of the Play.

Last evening according to program "Cinderella" was presented at the Opera House to a large audience; in fact the house was full. At the close of the performance not a remark indicating disappointment was heard, but on the contrary the expressions of praise and surprise at the excellency of the play were general.

The principal characters of the play—namely, Miss Ora Gill as Cinderella, Mrs. J. B. Pavilla as Glinda, and Mr. F. P. Dann as Seraphina, Cinderella's stepmother; Miss Dora Ziegler as Prince, Blanche Mingo, and Mr. J. R. Pavilla as Tony the Hilarious, attendants to the stepmother, representing the principal mortal characters—are deserving of special praise. As Golden Rod, Queen of the fairies, Miss Lizette Hoskins acquitted herself in an admirable manner, and received well merited applause. The little lady has an ease and grace on the stage seldom seen in one so young.

Little Contha Pavilla won the house with her dances as one of the tambourine singers.

The features of the evening were the Japanese dance by Misses Edna Thyes, Fay Trembley, Carrie Trembley, Katie Kinkart, Laura Smith and Gladys Parry, and the Amazon march by fourteen little ones. Their exhibitions elicited rounds of applause and indicated what an amount of persistent work and drilling it has required to perfect them in the intricate movements that were executed without a hitch or error. Mr. and Mrs. Pavilla are certainly entitled to a great deal of credit, as it is to their efforts mainly that the play was so successfully produced.

All who were unable to attend last evening should take advantage of the opportunity offered to witness the matinee this afternoon, at which the prices of admission will be reduced one-half.

Carson River Placers.

All along the banks of the Carson river above Young's Crossing and on up above the State line into Alpine county, lies some of the richest gravel mining ground on the coast. The best deposits are found in a certain kind of black sand, which the prospector soon learns to distinguish from barren ground.

As early as 1861 the bars were worked by California miners and later over 150 Chinamen miners who sluiced and seemed to make it pay. In those days three or four dollars a day was very poor wages but would do very well now for the miner or prospector.

Parties are now quietly taking up claims along the river, and it is rumored that eastern capitalists have a plan whereby the ground can be worked on a large scale and a close margin. Frank Everitt of Washington is said to be interested in the project.—Gardnerville Record.

A Valuable Property.

The mine at Jumbo district known as the Brown claim, but which is now owned by O'Brien, Schessler and Kent, is reported to be a very valuable property. Two syndicates are now figuring on the property, one from Denver and the other from New York. The ledge contains copper, gold and silver. The ore will have to be smelted, and the owners will erect a smelter at the mine, or if a reasonable rate can be obtained they will ship their ore to the Reno Reduction Works.

Professor Jackson of the State University has inspected the property and said he never expected to find such a big ledge in that section of the country. He stated that it greatly resembled the ledge found in the mines of South Africa. The mine is situated in Washoe county.

Prosperous Reno.

Griff Parry of Reno is in town and reports things as being on the jump in the river side burg. Buildings, both business houses and private residences, are being erected, and every indication of a prosperous town exists. It is said that the Southern Pacific is figuring on building a line in competition to the N.-O.-O. north from Reno. If this be done there will not be a better town on the coast.—Virginia Report.

New Dynamo Arrives.

A powerful dynamo for the Reno Water, Land & Light Company arrived here yesterday. It has twice the power of the one now in use, and has the capacity for 2400 lights. It will be made ready for operation as soon as possible, and when in working order it will be capable of furnishing light for a much larger town than Reno.

THE COMING FIELD DAY.

Some Exciting Contests Will Take Place Next Friday.

A lively interest is being taken in the coming intercollegiate field day between the Berkeley freshmen and the University of Nevada, and even those who are most capable of predicting the outcome of the meet are slow to give an opinion. However, by a close calculation of the points to be lost and gained, and comparison of past records, managers Jamison and Gregory of the U. N. team say we should win.

No doubt it will be the most hotly contested field day ever in Nevada, and it is promised that the U. N. records will be smashed as they never have been before. A number of the Berkeley athletes who will take part in the contest have gained enviable reputations.

Among them is Flaw, the mighty hammer thrower, who holds the United States inter-collegiate record for the 16 pound hammer, having tossed the weight a distance of 150 feet, 3 inches.

Tickets for the field day are on sale at Miss Dickinson's, S. Armanko's and A. Nelson's stores. The date of the meet is May 12th, at the race track, commencing at 1 o'clock sharp. After the U. N. and Berkeley contest a ten mile relay bicycle race will be run between a picked Reno team and the University team, and from the way training and talking goes on it will not doubt be a hard race. The University athletes will make the whole thing go with holiday dash; even ice cream will be on sale at the track.

The mine is situated in Churchill county.

Matron at the Insane Asylum.

Mrs. Jane Hunt of Virginia, sister of Joe Stenson, has been appointed matron at the Insane Asylum. The Enterprise says in this selection the Board of Asylum Commissioners exercised good judgment, as Mrs. Hunt is a very capable woman. She is well known, and the unfortunates at the asylum who will be under her charge will receive only the tenderest care.

Fernando Taken.

News of yesterday from the front gave details of the taking of Fernando, Aguineldo's stronghold, by our forces. The JOURNAL on yesterday stated its conclusion from the examination of late dispatches that it would be taken in a few days. The rebels made a vigorous resistance to the advance of the American forces under General McArthur, running from one line of trenches to another as they retired before our victorious army. The rebel capital has been taken and Aguineldo's dignity has received a severe twist. Where his dignity will next turn up is not known, but wherever it may be it will not cover much territory in the future, and any old thing will do for a capital from now until an unconditional surrender is deemed the best thing for the Filipinos to make.

Up to noon on the day of the charge on the rebels at Fernando we lost three men killed and six wounded. The rebels being well under cover their loss was slight.

Aguineldo is very sarcastic in his remarks about the Americans, which is foolish when his envoys are suing for peace, but some men never know when to be wise, and Aguineldo seems to be of that sort.

Capt. Neill's Case.

The defense in the case against Captain Neill has opened and closed, and the case has been finished so far as the taking of testimony is concerned.

The defense has been foreshadowed by the questions defendant's counsel has been putting to the witnesses all through the trial. Neill was ill and overworked, is the contention, but beyond that there will also be the claim that he could not have paid any of the unfortunate exchange dividends which have landed him in so much trouble, because they were never legally declared.

Colonel Compton testified that he refused to approve the dividends declared for January because they had not been made out by the Exchange Council. The prosecution maintains, however, that the mere fact that Neill had no right to pay the dividends, even should it be so shown, does not mitigate the charge against him of deception.

Written arguments for prosecution and defense will be submitted to the Military Court next Monday.

Prospecting at Belmont.

Prospecting has been commenced in some of the abandoned mines and prospects in East Belmont by several residents of Belmont, and there are encouraging rumors to the effect that extensive prospecting will be done in the district the coming summer. We believe there is much pay ore in East Belmont and hope some of it will be found by the prospectors.—Courier.

Officials Not Notified.

The railroad officials here have received no notice of a change in the time table, to date from the 9th instant as was reported. If such change was to be made on that date it is hardly probable that the agents along the road would not have been notified before this time. It is to be hoped that the report had no foundation.
